Mule Spinners and Back Boys Out at White Rock-Razor Wielder Arrested After Conference With Norwich Police Hired Man's Lantern Causes Burning of Hopkinton Barn-St. Michael's Parish Begins Year With Balance in Treasury-Ministers Hear of Social Center Work.

The big barn on the north side of gave hearing upon a motion for allowance for support of the petitioner and for counsel and witness fees in the diverce suit of Emma J. Davis of farm owned by J. Edward Phillips, was described by J. Edward Phillips, was lotally destroyed by fire early Sunday morning. One of the hired men was on the of the hay mow with a lighted lantern, and in sliding down the hay to the floor of the loft the lantern airder the side of the barn and was amasked. The two tons of hay were immediately ignited and the barn was seen a mass of flames.

All of the farm, men and women, commenced the work of resone and succeeded in saving six horses and five cows. They also saved some barness and farming implements. The rescuing party was led by a girl of 18 mad her schibtt of heroism incited the rest to activity that resulted in the rescue of all the horses and cows. Building and contents were partially insured.

Albert H. Langworthy, one of the representatives from Westerly in the general assembly, member of the town council and chairman of the highway committee, is known as a dry Joher among his intimates and has always a ready anaper at his tompue's tip Here's one as related in a Pravidence "Best."

"What is it, William" and the gentleman from Westerly, Mr. Langworthy, turned to the former speaker of Louis Brogulo, have been airested in

"Sars, now "
"Certains."

"Certainly not: lets' have it."
"Well, a few years and I had this seat made expressly for funerals, and when I attend any I always wear it."
Mr. Ettes, who had just experienced a political decapitation, enjoyed the situation more than the others, and he has repeated the conversation many times as the best story ever told at his expense.

The regular monthly meeting of the esterly Ministerial association was Harry P. Cook of Westerly, who is spe-stally interested in social center work Ease an interesting description of its objects and explained how application could be made to diagram no larger than Westerly. Ret. H. C. Van Horn of Ashawar read a carefully prepared and instructive paper on The Officers of the Church as Found in the New Testament. There was a general discussion of the points set forth by Rev Me.
